

EXPERIENCE BOHINJ'S MOUNTAIN HUTS

Bohinj is surrounded by mountains. The local people look on the crown of mountain peaks around Bohinj as their own; one of them, however, is owned by all Slovenians: Triglav. Mountaineering in Bohinj has always been recognised as the primary activity of the local people, and domestic and foreign visitors. Trails and mountain huts offer visitors of hills and valleys a hand, support, shelter and a special kind of experience. One is impossible without the other, and alpine tourism has been like this for as long as we can remember.

Discovering Bohinj in this way brings a lot of knowledge and learning about its nature through the prism of a mountain hut is a special experience. You are therefore warmly invited to visit Bohinj's mountain huts.

BOHINJ'S MOUNTAIN HUTS

There are more than ten mountain huts in the mountains of Bohinj, five of which are managed by the Srednja vas Mountaineering Club and the Bohinjska Bistrica Mountaineering Club. The huts can represent a specific goal for hikers, as well as shelter along the way or a starting point for a mountaineering expedition. You can combine visiting a hut with admiring the evening afterglow or the morning sun rising above the valley. Take the time to enjoy the views, stop or spend a night in a mountain hut, taste their culinary specialities and spend some time talking with other people, reading or simply preparing for a strenuous tour. These are all benefits of visiting a mountain hut.
